CHARACTERISTICS OF A CHRISTIAN LEADER (Part 7)

1. Biblical
2. Authentic
3. Transparent
4. Community Oriented
5. Communicator
6. Relational
7. Flexible

8. INNOVATOR.

Being an innovator is a positive characteristic in a rapidly changing time. School communities reflect the culture and in our culture there is little tolerance for the status quo. While the leader may not be an innovator, he or she must be one who recognises innovation. Supporting and encouraging staff to be innovative is a desired quality. The effective leader is one who recognises the gifts of individuals and empowers the staff to be innovators. There was a time not long ago when the primary role of the school leader was administration. Managing the school well was a high priority. Good management remains important. Times changed and so did priorities. In more recent times management was no longer a primary role but being the educational leader became a new number one. Being an educational leader was defined as being an educational expert. The school leader was expected to be an expert in curriculum and instruction, best practices and pedagogy, and in instructional design and assessment. All the while, administration and management remained important. This period was another example of adding without subtracting.

Some school leaders will embrace the role of educational leader. It is certainly important that educational innovation and leadership be evident in the Christian school. After all, our mission revolves around educating God's children. Other school leaders will assess their gifts and find this characteristic missing. The key is not necessarily to have the characteristic. The key is to insure that gifts are identified and educational leadership is discovered. If the leader does not identify this characteristic in himself or herself, he or she must demonstrate the discernment to identify educational leadership among the faculty team and to empower those individuals to lead the educational programs of the Christian school.

The effective leader is one who recognises the gifts of individuals and empowers the staff to be innovators.

SCHOOL ARRIVAL TIME AND CARPARK TRAFFIC AT CASSERLEY CAMPUS

A big thank you to all the parents and families who observe the traffic rules and speed limits and park in the correct places both morning and afternoon. Local residents appreciate it when we show them the courtesy and respect they expect from our Christian School.

Local residents have complained to us when parents park in the wrong places (on footpaths, across and in resident's driveways) but, equally, they have called to thank the school for promoting safe driving and parking.

A further thank you to all the families who arrive on time to school each day. This ensures that the students in years 1 and 2 are present for Bible reading, prayer and the national song. Being on time for this important morning observance at our Christian school is appreciated as an act of respect.

Late Arrivals

The Primary Roll is marked at 9am every day. Any late arrivals after 9am need to come via the office for a yellow late slip (Casserley campus office is near Year 2).

Students who arrive after 8:30am before the roll is marked will be noted by the class teacher and recorded as a late arrival.

High School Students will need to check in at the office if they arrive after form class at 8:45am.

MULTICULTURAL &

Our annual Multicultural day combined with Grandparent's day was again a big success! Students wore international dress and marched with their continent in a parade around the school grounds. There were 4 judges this year, who requested a 2nd lap be done by SOUTH AMERICA, AFRICA and ASIA. This time around it was AFRICA who found their rhythm and won the title of best continent.

Once again the African drum beat was highly entertaining and enjoyed by students, teachers, parents & grandparents.

Multicultural lunch was shared in every classroom, and Grandparents, parents & students were able to sample a lovely variety of cuisines.

GRANDPARENT'S DAY

Miss Farleigh, Miss Vallelongs, Mr Leathard & Mr Pirie deliberating on a verdict.

Parents and Grandparents watching the parade

On Wednesday, 16th August, the year 3 students did a poetry recital. This was a presentation for a lot of grandparents on Multicultural Grandparent Day. We recited the lovely "The Owl and the Pussycat" by Edward Lear. Everyone did a really great job.

We have been learning poetry all year which has been fun. Now we know that poetry is written to be spoken out loud! All of the grandparents said they enjoyed our performance very much. The staff who were watching us said they were very proud of the year 3 students. They said it was "delightful" and "nice and clear". We felt good about our recital and we all had a great time.

NAIDOC Art Gallery Walk

After a fantastic NAIDOC Day earlier in the term, each class at Emmanuel contributed to an outstanding Art Gallery Walk which was exhibited at both Salcott and Casserley campuses. The idea was to reflect Australian culture within our multicultural celebration for our grandparents.

The submissions were brilliant! Our lovely kindy students decorated stones which were also display, along with painting/drawing styles from the Western Desert, Central Desert, rock art and dot painting showing symbols of water, animals, rain, campsites and food.

The NAIDOC Art Gallery Walk is still on display at Casserley campus, so if you haven't seen it, wander along and take a look! Every class is represented, so see if you can see the art done by someone you know. You are very welcome.

LONG SERVICE LEAVE

Miss Suezanne Vallelonga is currently on Long Service leave and will return in Term 4. Miss Leigh Riddle will be teaching the year 4 class for the remainder of Term 3.

Thought for the day...

Christian education is, it is at the end of the day, how students see Jesus in you.

Teachers/staff members are first and foremost persons, unique individuals who bring to the classroom their attitudes, their dispositions, ways of thinking, manners of speech, dress, sources of joy, and a host of other factors. Inevitably, these matters are a part of their teaching and, in fact, are very much a part of the reason teachers achieve the results they do. Teachers have a moral atmosphere that radiates into space and is picked up – learned – by others who spend time with them. You can earn the respect of the students or you can not. It depends what you do and it does not depend on what you say.

Don't judge each day by the harvest you reap but by the seeds that you plant.

CLASSROOM NEWS

Year 6 Assembly

On Thursday, 3rd August, it was time to put all their tiring practices and cranky stage director behind them. It was time to hit the stage in front of a packed house. In short, a bunch of slightly-better-than-average actors, aka Year 6, delivered their assembly item:

'Alexandra and the Terrible, Horrible, No Good, Very Bad Day'

Yes, it is a long title and yes, it was a long assembly item but it was also a fantastic performance put on by the Year 6's of 2017. Not only did they successfully dramatise a sad tale to their audience, but they also managed to sneak in some educational stuff about narratives. One audience member was heard complaining after the show: "I can't believe I learnt something whilst having fun. I feel tricked!"

Our class wants to thank all the parents who came along to watch and also the high schoolers for coming along and laughing in all the appropriate places. We'll pay you later.

CLASSROOM NEWS

Year 3W Learning About Heat

On Tuesday, 22nd August, our class made observations about things that produce heat and things that are heated by something else. We work in collaborative science teams.

Our class was set up with eight stations around the room. Each of the stations had an item which was warm, hot or very hot. We had to be very careful and our teacher was very strict about what we could or couldn't touch so we were safe. We had to write an observation on each station.

Before we started, our teacher Mrs Wren, came into the classroom dressed in piles of clothes. Enough to stay warm in the Arctic Circle! She looked so cool and had a huge jacket, ski pants, a scarf, a windstopper headband, ear muff, skullcap, balaclava, beanie, snow boots, gloves and very, very cool special goggles on. It was awesome! We got to try all the clothes and things on. It was great fun!

The next station had a hairdryer. My team mate, Sarah, said I could blow dry her hair. It was super fun and her hair flew everywhere and was nice and warm.

The next station was five or six candles. It was really cool seeing the wax melting. We were not allowed to touch the candles or the desk or lean over them.

The next station was a heatpack heated by the microwave. It was so warm I just wanted to snuggle it forever and I would like one in my bed! It stayed warm for a long time. I don't know what was in it but it smelt like bread!

Another station had foil which is an emergency blanket. I don't know how it runs by heat but it is warm if you wrap yourself up in it. The one thing we couldn't do was be rough with it.

We had so much fun that day – I would love to do it again. Everyone in our class loves learning science because we always get to look, touch, explore and experiment with stuff. Now we have conducted observations, we will be doing experiments to find out more about heat. Mrs Wren says we can't just think something happens, we need to be able to explain to a friend how and why. Science is cool!

Famoso Chef Español Visitas Año 3

Year 3 classes joined together and had a visit from the lovely Mrs Cruz Junior, who came to create a delicious feast for the students.

Armed with her trusty fryer, she brought all the ingredients and instructions on how to make delicious churros!

After checking all the students knew how to pronounce the ingredients in Spanish, she proceeded to cook up a storm of the yummiest churros south of the border!! Scrummy!

Mr C supervised and also did some taste testing, checking that the churros were tasty, well fried and rolled perfectly in cinnamon sugar. He approved!! I think he was last seen running down the corridor with more than three in each hand.....

It was very informative and students learned about the kinds of foods people from Spain eat for breakfast. We look forward to her visiting again soon!
