CHARACTERISTICS OF A CHRISTIAN LEADER (Part 9)

1. Biblical, 2. Authentic, 3. Transparent, 4. Community Oriented, 5. Communicator, 6. Relational, 7. Flexible, 8. Innovator, 9. Manager, 10. Strategic Thinker

11. VISIONARY LEADER

The biblical leader in Christian schools is a kingdom visionary. Who seeks to lead for the purpose of equipping students for a life of kingdom service. God is king. The world belongs to God. His kingdom has come. But brokenness remains for a time. Kingdom focused leaders and schools have a vision of restoring God's shalom to the chaos and brokenness of the world.

12. COLLABORATIVE

Collaboration is not weakness. There was a time when many Christian school leaders were more like benevolent dictators than collaborators. I used to be one of them and I realised how wrong I was. It was an effective, efficient style of leadership in many communities. Today collaborative minded leaders lead most effectively. No one has every skill necessary to lead a school to high levels of standards, performance and outcomes. But collectively it is likely that together the different areas of the school and staff have those skills. The school leader seeks to identify skills, release those skills for the good of all involved, and empower teams. The effective Christian school leader identifies, respects, and honours every part of the body and the unique gifts and functions of every part.

BUILDING PROGRESS

Our new Administration block is almost complete! Next year this will be the main building for meeting with Principal, Bursar, Registrar, Uniform shop etc.

The uniform shop will be MOVING to Casserley campus before the start of Term 1, so avoid the rush and sort out uniforms while it is quiet.

Meanwhile at our 2 Salcott Road sites, these 2 building projects have been finished: Science Classroom (with Prep-room) and Cadet shed (in the old Kindy yard). Mr Hayward was very happy to move out of the crowded year 7 room into a bright, spacious science room.

It has been an exciting 2 years as we have watched the development of our new Primary school. The photos below were taken at the same time with the same Principal and same students in 2015, 2016 & 2017.

Changing the marriage law will have consequences for what is taught in our kids' classrooms

Changing the marriage law to allow same-sex couples to marry means taking gender out of our laws.

Radical gay sex education programs will become more widespread and compulsory as has happened overseas.

More and more kids will be taught their gender is fluid and not based on biology.

If same-sex marriage becomes law, parents will not have a leg to stand on if they don't want their kids taught radical sex education, and gender ideologies.

Saying 'yes' to same-sex marriage means saying 'no' to parents' rights.

If you are concerned about your rights as a parent, or radical gay sex education in classrooms, IT'S OK TO VOTE NO

IT'S OK TO VOTE NO

3 WAYS GAY MARRIAGE WILL CHANGE THE CLASSROOM

3 WAYS GAY MARRIAGE WILL CHANGE THE CLASSROOM

1. More radical gay & lesbian sex 'education' programs in schools

If the law is changed to include gay marriage, schools will be obliged to teach gay and lesbian sexual activity in the classroom.

Radical programs like "Safe Schools" already teach kids about various forms of sexual activity and encourages sexual experimentation from an early age.

Once gay marriage is legalised, programs like this will become widespread and even compulsory as has happened overseas.

2. Kids will be taught their gender is fluid

Once gender is removed from the marriage law it will quickly be removed from the classroom. Kids will be taught their gender is fluid, something they choose, not something they are born with.

The Gender Fairy is a book aimed at Australian kids aged four and up. It teaches children that no one can tell them whether they are a boy or a girl.

Boys who identify as girls will be encouraged to wear girls' uniforms and use the girls' toilets.

In the UK, the Equalities Minister praised easy gender transition as "building on the progress" of gay marriage.

This agenda is already promoted by programs like the controversial, gender-bending "Safe Schools" program and will only become more widespread once the law is changed.

3. Loss of parents' rights

In other countries where gay marriage has been legalised, parents have found themselves in court after trying to pull their kids out of radical gay sex education classes.

In Ontario, Canada, one parent went all the way to the Supreme Court to get permission to remove his kids from radical sex education classes. The court said the school could override his rights as a parent.

In some states the gender-bending, so-called "Safe Schools" program is being kept secret so the public won't know where it is being taught.

Parents are already being cut out of the picture in Australia. Parental consent or even notification is not needed for radical gay sex education programs like "Safe Schools", and South Australian schools are allowed to help a child change their gender even if the parents object.
